The George Washington University

*Centuries Celebration Weekend,
Monumental Alumni Gala &
Bicentennial Bash*

A spectacular light display filling up the sky signified to all of Washington, D.C. that The George Washington University's Foggy Bottom campus was the place to be. The sold-out Bicentennial Bash, which closed off Kogan Plaza for an evening filled with food, games and even an acrobat performance was the exclamation point of a weekend celebrating only-at-GW moments for 200 years.

Combining the Bicentennial Bash and the Monumental Alumni Gala, the Centuries Celebration Weekend was one of GW's most ambitious events to date. Multiple days, multiple venues, varying tones and tenors. The entire weekend connected the University's past, present and future, launching GW into its third century.
